Anticipating This New Season with Thanksgiving

A Message from DAVE SCOTT

It's hard to believe we're here again: over halfway through another year. Here at the Market Street Mission, preparations for our busy fall season are already underway.

Outside, the weather is starting to cool. But inside our doors, it's still warm and inviting as we get ready for the many neighbors who will come to us during the months leading up to Thanksgiving. It's one of my favorite times of the year, and it's possible thanks to the generosity of friends like you.

As I think about this time of the year, I'm reminded of the words of Ecclesiastes 3:1: "There is a time for everything, and a season for every activity under the heavens."

Each time someone comes to the Mission for help, their season changes. They leave a time of pain and struggle that they may not have anticipated and certainly didn't desire – and they choose a season of support and recovery. I truly believe this is God's hand at work through your partnership in this life-giving ministry.

Now, as we prepare to serve an estimated 22,500 meals in the coming months, I ask you to pray for every struggling guest who finds a seat at our tables. Pray that if the time is right for a new season in their life, God will make it known and see it through.

Thank you. I'm thankful for you now, and always.

G. David Scott

As a child, Dino was picked on because of his dyslexia. To hide feelings of inferiority, he developed a coping mechanism: “I used laughter to cover up things I was afraid of. I geared myself toward having a good time,” he said.

The partying lifestyle provided an escape from his insecurities, but it also led to drug use. It was social in the beginning, but when his brother died, drugs became a means of covering up his pain.

“That propelled my addiction to a very aggressive state,” he explained. “I didn’t care about anything. I had no will to live.”

That same year, another one of Dino’s friends passed away. At that point someone told him, “You’re going to be the next one to die if you don’t get help.” That realization sank in – he knew he needed to change.

Dino joined the Market Street

Mission’s addiction recovery Life Change Program. At first, he was uncertain about his ability to change, but hearing the stories of other men in our program gave him hope. “I loved the camaraderie and brotherhood. It showed me how to live again, differently,” he said.

Your compassion and generosity gave Dino the opportunity to rebuild his life in our program. Through Bible studies and mentorship, he began to heal.

“The love of the Gospel pierced through my heart, and it softened me where I was hard and careless.”

Dino made great progress and graduated from our program. But when COVID hit, he relapsed and fell back into old, destructive behaviors. Dino knew a life of addiction was not what he wanted, and he reached out to the Mission to ask for help again.

Our team encouraged him to join the relapse program at our Jersey Shore Rescue Mission location, where he got back on the path of recovery and reconnected with God.

Thanks to your prayers and support, Dino completed our relapse program and became an intern, serving in a leadership position at the Mission. Now, he is celebrating new life and sharing his hope with the people around him.

Dino is filled with thanksgiving for God’s redeeming love in his life – and your incredible generosity! “I’m thankful to the Mission for being clean and sober, and having a relationship with God. I don’t look at myself as a failure. I look at myself as blessed and fortunate. The only thing that matters now is the next day – staying clean and serving God.”
